DATEY EMPIRE

[From the Journal of Commerce.] "Let the brave and the strong enter; let the poor, and 'he worn, and the weavy enter; let humble and the loving enter; enter ye into the loy of our Lord."

Present is the cell, and promise, Lo, the leader 10, the way!
Labor and reward are waiting
Enter, if ye would obey;
Hear the welcome,
"Enter ye."

Come the brave-with burden lifted, And the note of triumph song,
Hoping, trusting, trying, daring,
Though the way be rough and long;
Hear the welcome, "Enter ye."

Come the strong-opright and earnest, Steadfast though the waves be high, Breasting, braving, struggling, winning, Conscious that the victory's nigh; Hear the welcome, "Enter ye." Come the pear-with want and weeping,

Meagre with the "mite" of love; Anxious, wistful, humble, longing, For the wealth and light above; Hear the welcome "Enter ye."

Come the morn-with wasted impulse, And the timid, laboring breath, Nerveless, aimless, but obedient, There's another gate than death; Hear the welcome, "Enter ye"

Come the seery—tired and drooping, Folded hands on willing breast; Fainting, faitering, but attempting— Light the burden, sure the rest; Hear the welcome, "Enter ve." Come the Aumble—wealth nor beauty Bearing in the modest hand, Waising, wondering, but believing— Such are wanted to that land;

Hear the welcome, "Enter ye." Come the looing-with a fonduesa And a strength that clease not bears, Clinging, tender, watchfol, faithful, With a smile nor wastes nor wears; Hear the welcome, "Enter ye."

Words Fitly Spoken

A writer in the Ohio Statesman from New braska City gives the whole slavery controversy, as to the Territories, in a nut-shell. We recommend the kernel he displays to the good taste and sound discrimination of Democrats everywhere. He speaks the words of truth and soberness:

"I see you editors and members of Congress are still discussing Congressional intervention on the subject of slavery in the Territories Will you allow me, with all of the subject in a few words: If we want slavery we will have it, and all the editors and Congressmen in the United States can't prevent us; and if we don't want it we won't have it, and you may carpet the Territory with laws on the subject, and you can't make us have it. The people here look with contempt on all this talk about Congress controlling the matter one way or the other. Fever and Ague, from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the consequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the polesnows missen of vegetable decay. This exhibition is the system, induced by the polesnows missen of vegetable decay. This exhibition is everlyed by the action of solar heat on wet soil, and rises which the water vapor freezist. While the sun is below the bortion diseased in larger impers near the carb's earlier, and the virus is taken with it through the lumin into the import ince to as an irritaring poison on the integral, viscen and exerting operant of the tood. There is acts as an irritaring poison on the integral, viscen and exerting operant of the tood. The three to virus, but also the bile from the Mood. Both the virus and the tile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spleen, the kildings, and the stometh lyme. The spices, the kidneys, and the sme pathing with the liver, and become parties with the liver, and become disordered also. Finally, the instinct of our organism, as if in an attempt to expel the noxious infusion, concentrates the whole disord of the holy in the internal exceptories to force them to east it out. The blend leaves the aurince, and rushes to the contral organs with congestive violence. This is the Circle. But in this effort it fulls. Then the Feven follows, in which the blood leaves the contral organs and rashes to the surface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poisson timple estamesed, and the system about the ac-timple estamesed, and waits for the recovery of strength to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the fits or paroxyarms of Favin and Ague. Such constitutional disorder will of course undermine the health if it is not removed. We have labored to find, and have found, an

which neutralizes this malarieus poison in the blood, and situatares the liver to expel it from the body. As it should, so it does care this adflictive disorder with perfect certainty. And it does ment, or rather does what is of more service to these subject to this infertion. If taken it season it expels it from the system as it is absorbed, and thus keeps those who me it free from its attacks; keeps the system in health although exposed to the disease. Consequently if not only cures, but projects from, the great variety of offections which are included by this unglemant influence, such as Romittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dunil, or Masked Ague, Periodical Headache, or illion Headache, hillous Fevers, Neuralia, Ricamanism, Gout, Blindness, Toothache, Earmele, Cameri, Asthina, Phiphattoris, Palafel Affections of the Spisen, Hyaneics, Colle, Barakels, and Painful Affections of the Stomach and Rowels, all of which, whos misling from this cause, will be found to assume more or less the intermitteri type. This "As a Cural" removes the cause of these derangements, and cures the disease.

This it accompilates by stimulating the excetones to expel the virus from the system; and these organs by degrees become habited to do this they offles of fliete own alread. these organs by degrees become habited to do this their office of fleir own arecord. Hence arises what we term declimation. Time may accomplish the same rule, but often life is not long enough, or is sacrificed in the attempt, while this "Auch Cune" does it af over, and with safety. We have great reason to believe this is a surer as well as safer remedy for the whole class of disease which are caused by the miasmatic infection, than my other which has been discovered; and it has still another important advantage to the public, which is, that it is cheap as well as good.
